Overarching Tips

Tech Tips

- The RFA’s Table of Contents is “clickable;” you can also use the “Navigation Pane” (under View tab) to navigate the document by header.
- The “Checklist” is the best one-page instruction that makes it clear what should be included in the entire Application Package.
- Consider using the “Headers” function of MS Word (under Home tab) for your own application—it can help make an automatic Table of Contents and auto-update page numbers to match. You can find instructions and videos online.
- Make your application easy for reviewers to view, understand, and navigate.
- You must submit the entire Application Package as a single PDF file; don’t simply scan the entire document if at all possible because it loses its “smart” features and the degraded image reduces its readability.
- Make sure the Budget Narrative cells don’t cut off when printed or changed to a PDF
- Do a test print. It is sometimes easier to spot issues. Also, reviewers may opt to read electronically or to print and read paper copy.

Writing tips

- For FY21 Applicants, be aware of small changes, particularly in the Narrative Section, where questions may be tweaked, numbering change, order changed, point values changed, etc.
- Follow the Narrative limitations and double check at the end: Size 12 font, 1-inch margins, single-spaced, 12 point spacing after each paragraph except for headings.
- For current or past grantees, don't picture the DEED 21st CCLC Program Manager as the audience. Picture someone with less familiarity with 21st CCLC and with your organization. Do a brief explanation when needed.
- Components might seem duplicative or redundant. Reviewers look for consistency and coherence throughout disparate parts (or at least sense a lack of it)
- Many Application Package components aren't directly "scored;" however, don't leave out—may not review or weaken grant due to lack of supporting, corroborating, confirming documents. Additionally, there is up to 20 points for "Overall Continuity, Vision, and Commitment of Entire Application Package."

- Plan and write as a group
- Be aware of other potential applicants in your community
- Be careful about saddling budget with costs that can be shared or provided in-kind
- We will expect your organization and staff to actually do what you wrote in the application. In year one and in year five. Be realistic. Don't set your organization and future staff up for failure.
- If awarded, your application should be the Director's "job description" and part of their employee manual
- Take all of the advice and tips here with a grain of salt. Application scores are a complex result of reviewer understanding, the entirety of your Application Package, and how it compares to other applications submitted.

Final Check

- It is easy to submit inconsistent information—do final review
- The “funding award request per year” is listed several places, including
 - Cover Page Form
 - Program Summary Form, pages 1 and 3
 - Budget
 - Budget Narrative
- The Program Summary Form should align with information in multiple places, including at least all the areas highlighted in yellow

This checklist is for the applicant's own use and should not be submitted with the application.

1. Cover Page

- Form on page 35
- Okay to use electronic signatures

2. Table of Contents

- No form
- One page
- Include page numbers that correspond with pages of application, including appendices
- Detail is helpful for reviewers (and future director)
- Tip: Try MS Word's tools for making Headers and Table of Contents that automatically updates page numbers. Otherwise, add page numbers and Table of Contents last.

3. Project Abstract

- No form
- One page narrative
- Shortcut for reviewers to understand the basics of who you are, what you intend to do, and why you are likely to succeed
- Allows you to summarize your project or tell your story in less structured way
- Gives reviewer framework or context for the disparate parts of the application
- Tip: It is the reviewer’s first impression—make it good

4. Program Summary Form

- Form on pages 36, 37, and 38
- Primarily a summary of grant services / facts from rest of application
- Allowable for table(s) on second page to expand to another page
- Information must match rest of application package

- Good orientation for future local program director
- Grantees will see form and numbers again during program reporting and monitoring
- Good place to keep an eye on whether cost per student is competitive and reasonable for likely gain

- Tip: Make sure pages 2 and 3 align with Eligibility Form, Priority Points Opportunity B, and Budget
- Tip: Use Comparable Cost Calculator to check the math is correct
- Tip: Revise near end of application process. Triple check for error and inconsistencies!

5. Population Served and Eligibility Form

- Form on page 39
- Example on page 40
- At least 60% of the students served must attend schools that are economically disadvantaged (poverty rates of 40% or greater or designated Title I-A Schoolwide)
 - To count as “served” student must attend program on 75 hours or more during the school year (doesn’t include summer)
 - School poverty rates are determined by January 2025 DEED Title I-A Eligibility report
 - See 21st CCLC DEED School Data Sheet, which is the only allowable data source
- If you complete chart and are not eligible (not over 60%) don’t apply
- Tip: Make sure this is in alignment with page 2 of Program Summary Form and Priority Points Opportunity B
- Tip: Do first

Column F requires you to list how many students will be enrolled in the 21st CCLC program. The RFA forbids applicants from promising to serve more than 50% of the school population.

Column G requires you to list how many students will be regular attendees, which means they will (voluntarily) attend the program 75 hours or more during the school year. The RFA forbids applicants from promising that fewer than 50% and more than 90% of the number of students enrolled in the 21st CCLC program will be regular attendees.

Note: During actual implementation, it is fine to exceed the numbers in columns F and G.

Note: Make sure these numbers match the numbers in the Program Summary Form.

Note: In this example, the Life Prep Program is "fed" by two "feeder schools": Small Town HS and Small Town Alternative School

The Excellence Afterschool Program is only fed by one school: Small Town Lower School

Priority Points C: Programmatic Support for Alaska's Education Challenge

- No form
- One page narrative to describe plan to intentionally support one of the five goals of Alaska's Education Challenge by meeting both of the following criteria:
 - 1) offering meaningful inclusion of any one of the activities listed, and
 - 2) assuring the activity is not currently accessible to the students and families who would be served by this application, or that this application would expand access to such high-quality services available within the community.
- Five points
- Be sure to explain the activity is not currently accessible to those who would be served.
- Tip: Review the Meeting Alaska's Education Challenge Together document.
- Tip: Find ways in which your program can naturally align with and support
- Tip: Focus on only one goal and activity in this narrative
- Tip: The entire program does not need to focus exclusively on the selected goal and activity
- Tip: Include other suggested activities in other section of application

Priority Points C: Programmatic Support for Alaska's Education Challenge continued

The five goals from the DEED Strategic Plan:

- Goal 1: Support ALL students to read at grade level by the end of third grade.
- Goal 2: Increase career, technical, and culturally relevant education to meet student and workforce needs.
- Goal 3: Close the achievement gap by ensuring equitable educational rigor and resources.
- Goal 4: Prepare, attract, and retain effective education professionals.
- Goal 5: Improve the safety and well-being of students through school partnerships with families, communities, and tribes.

Be aware of priority points, but...

- Only 30 points out of 290 possible
- Also consider:
 - Who needs the program
 - Who wants the program
 - Who has the staffing, resources, ability to deliver program
- You may be able to write an overall stronger grant application with the right school and focus instead of the one scoring the most priority points

7. Schedule of Operations

D. Available Funding

D1. Projected Total Amount Available For Awards:

Approximately $3,700,000 in annual awards will be available for the Alaska 21st Century Community Learning Centers Grant program. The number of grants and the grant amounts will be based on the number and quality of proposals submitted and federal appropriations. It is estimated that the department will award six to nine grants in this competition.

DEED reserves the right not to award all available funds if an insufficient number of applications are received and DEED is not required to fund applications that fail to demonstrate the quality and scope needed. Additionally, DEED retains the right to refrain from making any awards if it determines that to be in its best interest. This REA does not, by itself, obligate the state.

D2. Estimated Individual Grant Funding Amounts:

The minimum grant award is $50,000 per year. The maximum grant award is $900,000 per year for a grantee serving multiple sites. The range of grant awards will vary, mostly but not exclusively dependent on the number of students to be enrolled and served regularly and the number of centers to be operated. Applicants can propose to operate as few as one center and no more than five centers. Applicants are not required to offer summer programs, but must offer school year programs.

DEED reserves the right to award a smaller or larger amount of grant funds than an application requested based upon available funding, the recommendations of the review panel, and whether proposed expenses are allowable, reasonable, and necessary.

D3. Grant Performance Period

The grant will be awarded annually for 5 years, contingent upon congressional funding, substantial progress towards meeting grantee commitments and performance indicators, and compliance with all grant requirements. The first year of this grant award is expected to begin on July 1, 2025, and end on June 30, 2026. The fifth and final year would end June 30, 2030.

E. Use of Funds

E1. Centers

An Alaska 21st CCLC school year center must provide at least 220 hours of programming. A summer center must provide at least 90 hours of programming. Centers must strive to serve "Regular Attendees," which is a student who attends a school year or summer program 75 hours or more. Grantees must offer school year programming; summer programming is optional. Alaska's programs can serve students in kindergarten through high school only.

When trying to determine what would be considered reasonable and necessary expenditures, an applicant can consider this estimate: A typical 21st CCLC grantee needs approximately $175,000 to $200,000 per center, per year, that operates at least 220 hours during the school year, that enrolls 80 students, of whom 60 are "regular attendees." Applicants planning to run multiple large centers will likely find cost efficiencies that will require fewer dollars per student served, while applicants proposing to run a single center—or several small centers—will likely have a greater cost per student served. Applicants are encouraged to keep their costs low and

Application Narrative Points

- Most questions are worth 5 points
- Several questions are worth 10 points
- One question is worth 15 points
- There is an error: Heading incorrectly says Section G Evaluation is worth 30 points total. It's worth 25 points total. The points listed in section V are correct.
- Tip: Find point values for questions in Section V on the Score Sheet
- Tip: Allot more space and effort to prompts/questions with higher point values

G6. How will time and resources be managed through activities that have a clear structure and purpose and collaborative reflection in order to increase program quality out-of-school time programming?

H. Evaluation (30 25 Pts)

Prior to answering the prompts below, please review evaluation activities that is found in Section II, in under the Grantee Reporting and Required Activities 21st CCLC FY26 State Goals document found on Competitive Grants Opportunities tab.

Application Narrative Tips

- A and B: If in small community, don't select too narrow a target population (instead, most or all of your student body may have demonstrable need)
- A and B: If in large community, narrow down who you will serve, but again, not too small a target
- A3 and A4: (working with school and community) are excellent opportunities to have challenging conversations now rather than later. Get commitments and work out differences now. Get it on paper!
- C 3: Use DEED Nutrition website (and staff) to learn about federal nutrition programs that provide snacks and meals to economically disadvantaged students.
- D: Continuously ask yourself: Is this likely to lead to increased student academic achievement?
- E: Consult AASB's Alaska-centered Stronger Together resource

- F: Use partnerships as a way to support and sustain other organizations in your community instead of competing and harming one another. Work out MOUs and attach in optional Appendix H.
- G: Don't shortchange your program of key administrative staff; this is key to good programming. Try to have at least one administrative role that is 1.0 FTE 21st CCLC, who will be the dedicated "leader" of the program.
- H: Look at resources on the "Resources" tab of the DEED 21st CCLC webpage
- I: Brag about any of your organization's demonstrable accomplishments
- Throughout: Reference your "unscored" application package elements when relevant and to show consistency and support

Appendices

- Appendices A, B, C, are required
 - Appendices D,E, F, G, H, I are optional
 - Appendices A – I cannot exceed 35 pages.
 - Appendix J is required and not included in the 35-page limit
 - Clearly label all with Appendix Letter given by DEED, even if you skip some Appendices/Letters
 - Don't include additional documents
- Tip: With exception of Budget Narrative, keep the appendices short (1-2 pages)

Appendix A: Budget and Budget Narrative

- Link to Excel forms found on page 49
- For year one only
- 15 points

- Columns of Budget Narrative should all fit on one page, but the rows should continue over many pages
- Do a test print; cells can look fine on computer screen and then “cut off” when printed or turned to PDF
- Check to make sure numbers add correctly down and across
- Allowable to briefly reference relevant in-kind, but detailed explanations and estimated dollar amounts should only go in the Optional Appendix E
- Should match the program the application described
- Provide very detailed budget narrative
- Be good steward; expenses should be reasonable and necessary; control cost per “participant hour”

Budget and Budget Narrative Continued

- Consult the “Use of Funds” subsection of Section II for detailed information on spending, including required and prohibited expenses.
- Should Include
 - A lot of personnel costs
 - Staff travel to required meetings and conferences
 - Funding for evaluator that is external to the program to complete local evaluation observation (No more than 2%)
 - Student transportation from program
- Consider Including:
 - Software tool/subscription for data collection and program management
 - Staff time for gathering student data (enrollment information, attendance, teacher and student surveys)
 - Professional development and planning hours and resources

Appendix B: Letter from Principal(s)

- No Form, suggested topics on page 27
 - Attach one letter per school to be served
 - Signed (electronic signatures are fine)
 - 10 points total
- Tip: This will hopefully align with section A of the Application Narrative
 - Tip: Meet with the principal(s) and school(s) early in the process
 - Tip: If a school is not interested or does not demonstrate support for being served by this grant, do not pursue funding to do so

Appendix C: MOU for key partnership

- No Form
 - Articulate commitments and expectations
 - Signed (electronic signatures are fine)
 - Non-binding
 - If you attach additional MOUs, they belong in Appendix F
- Tip: This should address and clarify the partnership in Priority Points Opportunity A

Appendices D, E, F, G, H, I

These appendices are optional

- D: Organizational Chart
 - E: In-kind Budget and Budget Narrative
 - F: Additional MOUs
 - G: Timeline for first year
 - H: Position Descriptions for up to 3 key positions
 - I: Applicant's Choice
- Tip: The final Application Package score is worth 20 points for "Overall Continuity, Vision, and Commitment of Entire Application Package."

Appendix J

- 5 forms
- Must be signed (electronic signatures are fine)
- The Private School Participation Form must also have proof of consultation(s) (or attempt at consultation) attached
- The Tribal Consultation Form must also have proof of consultation(s) (or attempt at consultation) attached

- See guidelines and template on DEED 21st CCLC website
- Recognize guidance is somewhat different from that districts may follow for other ESEA funds and Title VI funds

- Tip: Do private school and tribal consultation early in the process
- Tip: Use outreach attempts that naturally create documentation when contacting private schools and tribes (e.g. email, meeting invite, letter)

Consultation with private schools

- The form provided in RFA is required
- Many of you have no applicable private schools located within the attendance zone of schools you are proposing to serve
- For the proof of consultation there are different templates provided that you can opt to use
- If you are a district, you can opt to do as part of regular annual ESEA private school consultation process
- DEED has a Private School Ombudsman who can help you determine if there are private schools in your area.
- The correspondence programs operated by Alaska districts are not private schools.
- Someone homeschooling their own children is not a private school
- If a school is not responsive or will not sign your affirmation, attach evidence of your multiple attempts.

Consultation with federally recognized tribes

- The form provided in RFA is required
- Almost everyone will have applicable tribes located within the attendance zone of schools you are proposing to serve; there are about 228 federally-recognized tribes in Alaska.
- For the proof of consultation there are different templates provided that you can opt to use
- If you are a district, you can opt to do as part of the regular annual ESEA tribal consultation process
- Contact me if you need help determining which tribes are located in your area.
- The regional and local tribal for-profits corporations and the regional non-profit tribal organizations established via ANCSA are not what is meant by federally-recognized tribe.
- For Southeast districts/organizations note that Tlingit and Haida (CCTHIA) is a federally recognized tribe for almost all SE communities in addition to the local tribe.
- Your affirmation must be signed by the tribal authority or someone appointed by the tribe for this purpose
- If a tribe is not responsive or will not sign your affirmation, attach evidence of your multiple attempts.
- Use Map to determine which tribes; use BIA list for contact info

Score Sheet

- Found on pages 58 - 66
- There are several elements of the application package that have no specific points attached (e.g. Project Abstract, Program Summary Form, Schedule of Operations, MOUs) but can help to support, provide context, and demonstrate coherence for answers in the Application Narrative
- Furthermore, there are 20 points for meeting this criteria:
Considering the complete application package, including appendices C through I—the entirety of the application package displays overarching coherence and continuity, communicates the applicant’s vision with clarity, and demonstrates their commitment to providing quality programming.
- Tip: Give reviewers reminders in narrative about other portions of your application package

Additional Information

Tips for New Applicants

Tips for implementation and application

- Don't understaff the key management positions: Site Coordinator and Director.
- Don't try to serve too many centers; it's fine to start with one.
- Consider focusing on a specific grade level: Instead of serving four schools grades K-12, try just serving K-5 at the four schools.
- Don't design programming that is overly narrow; it reduces adaptability. Maybe it is most appropriate for your organization to be a specialized partner who provides quality programming as just one part of a 21st CCLC program.
- Take the needs assessment section seriously. Don't write a grant that will compete instead of cooperating with the community's current resources. Don't submit application if school or community does not support the program.
- Don't overestimate the number of "21st CCLC regular attendees" who will voluntarily attend 75 hours or more; funding will be reduced; for typical K-12 school the average attendance is 35% of elementary students and 10% or less of secondary (could consider not serving).

- Consider contracting a grant writer; your organization will still have much work to do to submit a grant application that is compelling and able to be implemented; can't pay with grant funds.
- Don't reduce existing programming and don't try to supplant how the existing programming is funded; your community will tattle on you.
- Keep track of how much it will cost per "student hour" (hours of programming x regular attendee); too high a cost per student hour won't be competitive; don't "pad;" don't make it too expensive for the probable gain (form on page 38).
- Remember that federal funds have many restrictions (incentives, snacks, celebratory food, entertainment are unallowable costs); additionally, costs must be "reasonable and necessary;" instead, can organization provide and list as in-kind support?
- Don't focus on reviving a derelict building; must meet ADA compliance and safety regulations; try to use school.
- Don't over rely on volunteers; it's unrealistic. However, AmeriCorps volunteers are a good option

What it's NOT

- Study hall—No: Planned lessons, small student-teacher ratio
- Drop-in tutoring—No: Regular attendance of target population
- Mandatory intervention—No: Voluntary
- A way to buy expensive equipment—No: Unless supported by quality staffing
- A way to fund school's favorite clubs—No: Supplanting
- A way to build/fund a rec center—No: Construction not allowed
- A way to fund out-of-town student trips—No: Educational field trips that are aligned with programming and within community only
- Tuition/scholarships to send students to other camps, schools, or programs—No: This is the learning center

Supplement not supplant

Supplement = Allowed

- Create brand new program
- Add/replicate successful program at a new additional site
- Double the number of students previously served; double the number of days of operation. 21st CCLC pays only for the new students/services.
- Use 21st CCLC funds to operate a program previously funded by COVID money that died September 2024.
- Use 21st CCLC funds to operate a program previously funded by a 21st CCLC grant that ends June 30, 2025.
- Significantly add on to a current program and fund pre-existing part with non-21st CCLC funds

Supplant = Not Allowed

- Offer the same programming you offered in the prior year but swap how it is paid for
- Incorporate traditionally offered activities into a 21st CCLC program and pay for the activities using 21st CCLC funds
- Use 21st CCLC funds to operate a program previously funded by the district's BSA, Title I-A, Title IV-A, CTE, etc.
- Use 21st CCLC funds to operate a program previously funded by fundraising activities.
- Use 21st CCLC funds to pay for an activity required by federal, state or local law

Overview

The purpose of the Nita M. Lowey Alaska 21st Century Community Learning Centers (21st CCLC) program is to provide competitive grants to organizations that are working in partnership within their community and schools to provide expanded learning and enrichment opportunities for children and their families outside of regular school hours. The program is designed to target funds to communities that have low achieving students and high rates of poverty but lack the resources to establish after school centers. Funding for Alaska's 21st CCLC program is provided by federal funds from ESEA, Title IV, Part B.

Final warnings for applicants

- Understand that your application is a commitment, like a contract, and if you say you are going to do it (and you are funded) - we will expect you to do it.
- Ensure the proposal follows guidelines/deadlines (timelines for submission, fonts, charts, orientation etc.)
- Determine if the proposal is more appropriately funded through other sources
- Be aware of other program or application efforts in your community
- Ensure the proposal is not too expensive for the probable gain
- Most grant dollars should be focused on services to the intended population
- Only ask for what you need
- Do not “pad” budget
- Budget should match your programming
- Demonstrate capacity to provide proposed services
- Details, details, details
- Include realistic plans for hiring expertise, if necessary
- Applicants should anticipate for unforeseen changes; such as difficulties in hiring personnel, and plan accordingly
